Hello, Mrs Matt , I am Mrs Zacarias I contacted you today by phone. Basically I need to know if you can help to achieve my "Goal" my dream. I would like to fly in a "professional" like manners one of the big airliners. I have to made my mind which of the following: Boeing 747, 757, 767, or 777 and or Airbus 300 (it will depend on the cost and which one is easiest to learn).

part

The level I would like to achieve is to be able to takeoff and land , to handle communication with ATC , to be able to successfully navigate from A to B (JFK to Heathrow for example).

In a sense , to be able to pilot one of these Big Bird , even if I am not a real professional pilot

I am ready to take instrument course to achieve some basic understanding I have around 55hrs of fly in a 152, and I passed my written PPL last month

I know it could be better but I am sure that you can do something After all we are in AMERICA, and everything is possible Have a nice day , waiting for a positive fly Thanks you Zac
